

Q-global® Administration, Scoring & Reporting and Pricing Options

Date October 2018

Q-global® is Pearson's web-based administration, scoring and reporting system that enables you to:

- administrator and/or score assessments online
- produce accurate and comprehensive reports.

Q-global® houses the industry's gold standard assessment tools and is accessible from any computer connected to the Internet. Guidelines:

Test Administration Options

There are tests on the Q-global® platform that can be administered on screen and / or via paper and pencil with the option to manually enter the scores and then generate the report as a PDF and/or a Word document.

Q-global® offers the following options for test administration for the candidate and / or rater;

1. Manual Entry (ME): When the test is administered using the paper-pencil format, the raw scores or item responses are manually entered into the Q-global® platform.
2. On-screen administration (OSA) the test is administered to the client on-screen via the Q-global® platform.
3. Remote on screen administration (ROSA) where the candidate or rater is sent an email invitation with a link to launch and administer the test at a remote location. ROSA is available on specific tests (refer to the following table).
4. Group Administration (GA) allows you to assign one or more assessments to examinees in a proctored environment; this option is available for specific tests.

Scoring and Reporting Options

The Q-global® platform scores and generates reports for paper-pencil tests that have been manually entered or where the test was administered on-screen.

Your scoring comes with all of the advantages of Q-global.

- Reports can be generated in PDF and/or Word* format which allows editing.
- Not available for all tests.
- Report options vary across tests and include:
  - Basic score report
  - Narrative interpretive report that also contains scores
  - Progress report where multiple assessments have been conducted on the one client
  - Multi-rater reports that statistically compare teacher-parent, teacher-self, or parent-self rating
- Secure servers using industry best practices for data encryption and data storage
- Account and user management, archiving and exporting features

It is recommended that reports are generated via a laptop, PC or MAC.document.

The Intervention Guide

The Intervention Guide for LD Subtypes is an instrument designed to assist the practitioner in evaluating a student's assessment data to identify specific learning disability (LD) subtypes. The purpose is intervention planning, not to support a diagnosis or eligibility decision. If the data suggests a likely fit for a subtype, the report describes that subtype, provides guidance for tailoring interventions according to the student's needs and includes research-supported interventions to consider. This tool is currently available for the KABC-II, KTEA-3, WPPIS-IV and WRMT-III

Pricing Options

Pearson offers two pricing options for scoring and reporting on Q-global®.

1. Pay per-report generated
2. Purchase an annual subscription that offers unlimited-use for scoring and reporting which is available for a limited number of tests. This option is ideal for high volume users of a particular test e.g. WPPSI-IV Australia / New Zealand.

Important note: Each subscription is per user for the product only and will begin on the date of order processing unless otherwise requested.

Please refer to the following table for further information.
